So You Want a Seat at the Table – Experience from Women on Securing Board Positions

March 18, 2021

Women have historically been under-represented on for-profit boards. Although board room diversity is increasing, women remain under-represented, and progress continues to be slow. Join us for a virtual program that will offer a number of perspectives on for-profit board service, including an exploration of the role, responsibilities, and compensation of board members and advice for securing a board seat.
