Faith Kasparian Named Go To Cybersecurity & Data Privacy Lawyer by MA Lawyers Weekly

July 15, 2024

Morse is excited to announce that Faith D. Kasparian has been named, for a second time, a Go To Lawyer for Cybersecurity and Data Privacy by Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly for 2024. Faith was also previously selected as a Go To Lawyer for Cybersecurity and Data Privacy for 2022, which speaks volumes to her experience and dedication to her practice.

Faith is well-versed in counseling her clients on state, federal, and international privacy laws, as well as commercial agreements involving privacy and data security. Not only does Faith advise clients at all stages of growth, but across a wide range of industry verticals as well. Since joining Morse in 2008, she has developed the firm's Privacy and Data Security Practice and continues to serve as the Practice Chair today. Additionally, Faith is also a Certified Information Privacy Professional/United States (CIPP/US).

Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly considers a Go To Lawyer as someone who is knowledgeable in their field, someone with a record of success, and an advisor who thinks creatively and can identify all options for a client. Morse can proudly agree that this is an accurate depiction of Faith. Please join us in congratulating Faith on her accomplishments and continued success within the industry. Well done Faith!
