Morse Serves as Counsel to Lovelace Studio in Pre-Seed Financing Round

April 28, 2025

Morse is pleased to announce that Lovelace Studio, a company dedicated to crafting meaningful digital experiences through AI-powered toolkits, recently closed their $500k Pre-Seed round. This investment allows Lovelace to further develop and scale their platform, Nyric, while exploring opportunities for continued growth and innovation.

Lovelace believes that digital experiences should be meaningful. This vision led to the development of Nyric, a toolkit for building a community-driven multiverse where players can use AI tools to create, customize, and share their own worlds. Nyric fosters a collaborative space for creativity and storytelling, redefining the future of gaming.

Morse attorneys Mike Cavaretta, Liz Resteghini, and Monica Sax served as counsel to Lovelace Studio in this transaction.

> Liz shares, "Morse was proud to represent Lovelace Studio in this financing. We look forward to continuing to help the Lovelace team grow, succeed, and shape the future of gaming."
