

Risk Containment Strategies for Start-Ups

May 22, 2014

The road to success for startup companies is rife with potential risks, including contractual liability to customers, strategic partners, and end users; violation of laws; infringement of intellectual property and other proprietary rights; and product liability.

Learn from a panel of professionals and entrepreneurs how to identify these risks and strategies for containing them.

Join us for a lively discussion and then network at the Venture Cafe after our event.

Speakers:
